How to notify a breach or incident under the Beazley McDonalds program:

1. Send an email to McDonaldsClaims@Beazley.com
2. Please include the following in your notification email:
 - Your insurance policy number, if possible;
 - a short description of the incident;
 - the date the incident occurred (if known);
 - the date your organization discovered the incident; and
 - Contact information for the point person handling the investigation.

Please do not:

- email Beazley staff directly to provide the initial notice; or
- Include any personally identifiable information or protected health information.

Or alternatively call:

- Toll Free 24 Hour Hotline (866) 567 8570 for 24 hour notification

Please note that the representative that you speak to will not be from the Beazley McDonald's claims team, they will take your details and forward these including any information on the claim across to the Beazley McDonald's claims team for their response.

When to notify us?

You should notify Beazley as soon as you suspect that personally identifiable or confidential data for which you are responsible might have been compromised. The sooner you notify us about a potential data breach, the more the Beazley McDonald's claims team can do to help.

What happens after notifying us?

A Beazley McDonald's claims team member will respond to the notice generally on the same or next business day and will schedule a phone call to discuss the incident, assist you with any needed breach investigation and response services available under your Cyber policy.

We recommend that those within your organization who are involved in investigating the incident participate on this phone call.

The Beazley McDonald's claims team will continue to collaborate with you throughout the investigation and response process, to provide guidance and to arrange breach investigation and response services provided by Beazley's network of expert service providers.
